I think we shouldn't have zoos because people abusive to ward animals if they don't do tricks right for example they beat the animals. Another reason is that they use animals for entertainment and animals can catch zoochosis for example when they get zoochosis they put their head up and down and tear holes in there own skin. I think it's teareble to tear holes in your own skin.

And some more rishans are they are forced to stay with animals not in their family. I think they are sad because they can't stay with their family because I know I would be sad to not stay with my family. There's are all the rishans I think we shouldn't have zoo's
